FISCAL IMPACT SUMMARY

Fiscal Research finds that the bill will have no significant fiscal impact on the Private Protective Services Board (PPSB) or staff.

FISCAL ANALYSIS

The bill makes various changes to Chapter 74C of the General Statutes governing Private Protective Services and the PPSB. While additional licenses will require application processing and background investigations, these duties will be absorbed within existing staffing levels. The PPSB's recent transition to an online application system has significantly increased efficiency. Fiscal Research finds that any fiscal impact on the Board and staff will be insignificant. The bill creates additional license fees and penalty fees, but the number of additional licensees or penalties imposed is unknown and therefore, Fiscal Research cannot estimate the additional revenue to the Private Protective Services Educational Fund.
